

English Requirements

Building Leaders for Business

International students are requested to demonstrate a certain level of spoken and written English during the application process. IELTS (International English Language Testing System) is one of the tests that can be used to prove the applicants' ability to use the English language for academic purposes.

Here is a list of general IELTS requirements for different level of study:

- Short English courses (less than 11 months) – No IELTS needed
 - Foundation course – IELTS overall 4.0
 - Undergraduate degree course - IELTS overall 6.0 with no less than 5.5 in each element
 - Postgraduate degree course - IELTS overall 6.5 with no less than 6.0 in each element
- *The test should be no more than two years old by the time the visa application is made.

What if I cannot meet the IELTS requirement?

Students can still submit their application before the language requirement is met. The university admission will form a condition on the offer sent to the student. Students will be required to meet the condition before their arrival at the university.

Students may also be advised to take a pre-session course designed for students to improve their command of English.

What if I have taken other form of English language test, can I use that in my application?
